

Professor Rami Benbenishty

Israel

Rami Benbenishty is a professor of Social Work in Bar Ilan University, Israel. He studies the welfare and rights of children and youth, and the well being of children in normative contexts, such as schools and in out of home placements. Along with Ron Avi Astor he studies school climate and prevention of school violence. Together they developed a theoretical framework of school climate and violence in evolving contexts. He is engaged in a number of international collaborative studies and helps develop systems to monitor school violence and climate. He has published more than 200 scientific publications and received several awards including, Society for Social Work Research (SSWR) Distinguished Career Achievement Award, 2016, Israel's EMET Prize for Science, Art, and Culture, 2016, France's Chevalier des Ordre de Palmes Academique (Knight in the Order of Academic Palmes), 2011, and Israel's Landau Prize for Research and Scienc